

CaseProduction™

CaseProduction™ is CaseLogistix™ next generation eDiscovery production tool. It is a companion to CaseLogistix and enables managing productions of any size or complexity.

CaseProduction is fast and simple to use – the right tool to fulfill production requests by opposing counsel or government regulators.

CASEproduction

CaseProduction offers robust and flexible capabilities for:

- Native production, Image production, and Mixed/“Hybrid” production
- Complex requirements for redactions, numbering, and endorsements
- Output of text and metadata into multiple formats, simultaneously

With CaseProduction, an eDiscovery production operator can easily and routinely:

- Set up individual production jobs and save the template for subsequent use
- Schedule multiple jobs at once and assign each job a priority
- Configure, manage, and scale multiple simultaneous productions of differing types
- Run reports by job to account for use of resources or cost recovery

CaseProduction delivers:

- Fast return on investment
- Reduced time and increased flexibility for production
- Reduced time and number of staff required to complete and QC productions

Produce Quickly

Meet deadlines comfortably by taking advantage of advanced design, simple user interfaces, reusable templates, parallel prioritized jobs, and scalable architecture.

CaseProduction can distribute hardware-intensive tasks across multiple (physical or virtual) machines. CaseProduction's intelligent optimization reduces costs by reducing the resources required to monitor productions. CaseProduction is one of the fastest production tools in the industry for Tiff-to-Tiff productions, without sacrificing complex capabilities for Native and Hybrid or Mixed-Mode productions.

Produce Flexibly

CaseProduction helps you keep pace with new and evolving meet-and-confer requirements. You can design and run a single rule-based process on an entire production, separately treating outputs for native files and images and avoiding post-production gymnastics. You can use the Production Wizard to quickly select and set the options you need for load file format, numbering, endorsements, and redactions for each production run.

Spreadsheets, presentation slides and rich media formats often require native production output to be segregated from basic email and image-based productions. The CaseProduction IntelliFormatter provides a flexible, dynamic ability to apply rules for mixed output formats e.g., between native files and TIFF images.

Produce Many At Once

CaseProduction allows multiple large, mixed-format productions to run in parallel or in prioritized queues. It reduces time spent on sequential runs. Multi-tier (N-Tier) architecture with integrated security is standard. You can run parallel productions across all your cases with prioritized queuing and load balancing.

CaseProduction's Control Panel gives you the ability to manage productions on an enterprise scale. You gain insight into all your productions, at a glance or at a granular level, with dive-in dashboards.

Produce Uniformly

Production templates may be created, modified, and reused for new projects. Templates reduce manual overhead and improve accuracy. Each case, client, and practice area can build upon previous productions and tailor to specific data sets. Rather than starting each production from square one, templates allow a simple method of improving both process and outcome.

Save Money

CaseProduction gives your firm or department the self-sufficiency to create, format, execute and manage complex productions with no outside support. Use the reporting features to support your internal cost analysis or cost recovery programs.

Bottom Line for Your Office or Department: Less Cost and Less Risk

Managing large scale productions with tight deadlines and budgets is more than conceivable – it's achievable.

Your team will appreciate CaseProduction's ability to manage multiple, large-scale productions with speed and accuracy. CaseProduction increases your output and reduces complexity – quickly and consistently, producing the right documents in the right format.
